want us to go now, and I think we'd better do it." "Have you considered a divorce?" Marvin Kolodny asked. (He peeked into Barry's file.) ". . . Barry?" I did not like that idea, either, but ... "What else can we do? Shall I lie to Amanda and hate you for making me do it?" She winced. "No." "There is no need for you to stay, senior. She shall have my personal attention, I assure you." slashed-wrist suicide near Western and Wilshire. Once there was a poor man named Amos. He had nothing but his bright red hair, fast fingers, quick feet, and quicker wits. One grey evening when the rain rumbled in the clouds, about to fall, he came down the cobbled street toward Mariner's Tavern to play jackstraws with Billy Belay, the sailor with a wooden leg and a mouth full of stories that he chewed around and spit out all evening. Billy Belay would talk and drink and laugh, and sometimes sing. Amos would sit quietly and listen and always win at jackstraws. Neither of them bothered to answer that. The radio hit the nose sputtered, then clanged for their attention. Crawford looked over at Lang, who made no move to go answer it. He stood up and swarmed up the ladder to sit in the copilot's chair. He switched on the receiver. Window 28 was the window that issued licenses: he had passed! Nocturnal and Diurnal Animals, ROGER ZELAZNY. A faint orange glow outlined the top of a craggy boulder, and they hurried toward it over the crumbly ledge. When they climbed the rock, they saw that the light came from behind another wall of stone further away, and they scrambled toward it, pebbles and bits of ice rolling under their hands. Behind the wall they saw that the light was even stronger above another ridge, and they did their best to climb it without falling who-knows-how-many hundreds of feet to the foot of the mountain. At last they pulled themselves onto the ledge and leaned against the side, panting. Far ahead of them, orange flames flickered brightly and there was light on each face. For all the cold wind their faces were still shiny with the sweat of the effort and smelled. But none of them would have wanted to sleep outside in the dome, even if Lang had. over to the side of the road and cut the engine. The San Fernando Valley was spread like a carpet of. Examples of sf titles that have been retranslated back into English after appearing in a French history of sf. Immediately there was thunder, and light shot from the restored glass. The grey man stepped back. She looked at me, not saying anything, her face slowly collapsing into an infinitely weary resignation. surrealistic skit about a speakeasy for five-year-olds, and a novelist with a speech impediment who got. He looked at me with an expression I'd never seen before, and I knew why Lorraine said he had a brave and strong and beautiful, and could govern beside any man. He said I was proud, and that my pride was good. But then he saw how I looked in mirrors at my own face, and he said that I was vain, and my vanity was bad, and that it would keep me apart from the prince I was worthy of. The shiny surface of all things, he told me, will keep us apart, until a prince can gather the pieces of the mirror together again, which will release me. stopped to consider forty-one years old. stripping off her exercise suit. "I'm going to swim. Will you come with me?" 192. "Yes, Mr. Mallory." She dialed the phone nimbly, sitting as if she were wearing a back brace. The wealthy merchant stiffened. Behind Driscoll, Maddock was examining the bottom of the gorge through the image intensifier, while in the shadows next to him the expression of concentration on Corporal Swyley's face was etched sharply by the subdued glow of the forward terrain display screen propped in front of him. The waitress who brought his order was Cinderella Johnson. She was wearing levis and a T-shirt with the word "Princess" in big, glitter-dust letters across her breasts. Her hat said: "Let Tonight Be Your Enchanted Evening at Partyland!" Q: Say, Guv, what's the author of "Chthon" have in 'is car that he loves to 'onk? "No." Selene's voice came through clenched teeth. "I won't allow that, Mandy. And I won't retire. You'll just have to live with me as always." "Hey, everybody!" Jain raises her voice, cutting stridently through everyone else's conversations. "Get." But will it work even if the grey man is already in the garden of violent colors and rich perfumes, walking past the pink marble fountains where the black butterflies glisten on their rims?" asked Jack. "I've got a car; we're going away." "About two months." At least a thousand hired kids are there setting up chairs in the arena this morning, but it's still hard to. Now Jack said, "To the top of the mountain where there is a piece of a mirror." gets to the woods?" when I was sitting at my desk reading the Times. "No way," she says. "He didn't and he won't. He doesn't like what I do." I can't think of anything to say now. After a while Jain rescues me, "It isn't your hassle, and it isn't mine anymore." Tom Reamy wrote four stories for F&SF: "Twilla," "Insects in Amber," "San Diego Lightfoot. to the trunk, lifted the lid, and tossed it in." Ah, several things.
